NEWSLETTER

AUGUST 2026

Dear Students

As you prepare for your upcoming Mid-Term Examinations, use this time wisely to assess your learning, strengthen your concepts and organise your preparation. Examinations provide an opportunity not only to showcase what you have learned but also to develop qualities such as consistency, responsibility, determination and effective time management.

Plan your studies thoughtfully and follow a balanced routine that includes revision, practice, classroom learning and sufficient rest. Make it a habit to clarify your doubts, revise regularly and focus on developing a clear understanding of each concept. Remember that your teachers and parents are always there to guide and support you whenever required.

Each of you possess your own talents, strengths and potential. Do not compare your journey with others. Instead, appreciate your progress, learn from your challenges and continue striving for improvement.

As you enter the examination period, stay composed and maintain a positive outlook. True success is not measured by marks alone; it is reflected in the sincerity of your efforts, the lessons you gain and the confidence with which you face challenges.

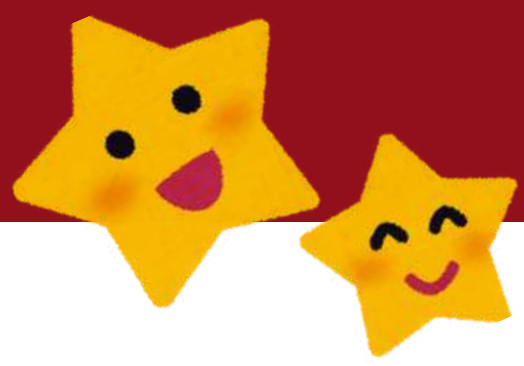

“Consistent effort creates progress, perseverance turns challenges into achievements and confidence helps you discover your true potential.”

We wish you all the very best for your Mid-Term Examinations. Stay organised, read each question carefully, manage your time wisely and approach every paper with a calm and confident mind.

Believe in your preparation, trust your abilities and give your very best!

Warm wishes
Meenu Chugh
PRT Coordinator
